Every Business needs a recruitment agency that values their time, processes & provides the best candidate for the job at a low cost.

Hiring a new employee can be a time-consuming yet important exercise. Some of the true benefits of using a trusted recruitment partner in the search for right candidates for the available jobs

In business, time is money and using a Recruitment Agency is a time saver. They will save you time because they take care of the beginning steps of the hiring process. Finding the right applicants to interview will take a great amount of time and effort.

Recruitment Agencies have their own database of qualified applicants that they can pull directly from.

Administrative costs also need to be taken in consideration of facilitating the process, sifting through the CVs, initial conversations, the list goes on – these all take time, and as we all know time is money.

A Recruitment Agency will see to it that these steps are taken care of before you meet anyone for your own interviews. You will feel assured that anyone you meet has already passed these tests.

We have been privileged to have trained and recruited from the lowest cadre of Drivers to Managing Directors in different industries /sectors

SDIL has a league of International recruiters, Certified Business Consultants, ISO trained etc to start, grow & improve the overall performance of the business

Relentless and passionate about adding value....
